

The Biggest Day In Our History

Thursday, Sept., 21, 1916

THE CO-OP has grown rapidly for sixteen years and in that time has had some big days but Thursday was the biggest and best of all days.

THE CO-OP has served its purpose well and every student in the University of Missouri appreciates its Service. Our record-breaking day is an indication of that appreciation.

THE CO-OP wishes to thank every student who helped us make our splendid record, and that includes nearly every student enrolled. Special thanks are due the wide-awake, well-informed students and ex-students who worked behind the counters.

The force that delivered the goods.

A BUSY BUT PEACEFUL CITY

Three Days Go By Without An Arrest Being Made.

There hasn't been a crime committed in Columbia for three days—that is, the police aren't aware of any for three days have elapsed without a city case being docketed. Even the peace of Columbia has not been disturbed the least bit.

The first week of the new University year has passed, and not a single disturbance, as a result of efforts of sophomores to take the joy out of the lives of freshmen, made the assistance of the officers of the law necessary. Not one second-year student has a ride to police headquarters to his credit this year, whereas five were treated to this unwelcome ceremony during the first few days last year. And no anxious landladies disturbed the peace of Mayor J. M. Borterton yesterday, as was caused by the efforts of the sophomores to eliminate a hundred freshmen from the annual bag rush last year.

Columbia and the University students are conducting themselves better each day, and no one is more pleased than Chief of Police J. L. Whitesides.

Judge Norton On Campaign Trip.

Judge Albert D. Norton, of St. Louis, a member of the Board of Curators of the University started yesterday on a campaign tour for the Democrats through the West. Judge Norton will deliver four speeches in Missouri before going to the Pacific Coast, Chillicothe, September 25; Unionville, September 26; Sedalia State Fair, September 27.

Choral Society To Meet.

The Columbia Choral Society will hold the first meeting this year at 7:30 o'clock Monday night, in Room 324, Academic Hall. All of last year's members are invited to attend.
